LAMPSON PIKE BOND SCHEME WINS IN A WALK

Provides $50,000,000 For System of Inter-County Highways.

RESTRICTION REMOVED

vote of 72 to 40, and After Several Amendments Had Been Introduced, Constitutional Convention Adopts Ashtabula Delegate's Bond Issue Scheme and Rejects Stillwell's Direct Tax Levy Proposition, Over Convention News.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—Good roads advocates broke into cheers when, after nearly two weeks of debate and hard work, the constitutional convention by a vote of 72 to 40, adopted a proposal of Mr. Lampson of Ashtabula providing for a $50,000,000 bond issue by the state, the money to be used in building roads throughout the state. The Lampson proposal is as follows: "Provided, however, that the general assembly may contract debts and authorize issue of bonds to an amount which in the aggregate shall not exceed $50,000,000, for the purpose of construction, improving, maintaining, repairing and rebuilding a system of intercounty wagon roads throughout the state; not to exceed $10,000,000 in such bonds shall be issued in any one year; and there shall be levied and collected annually, by taxation, an amount sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund for their redemption at maturity.

Determined by General Laws. "Such wagon roads shall be determined under general laws, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the state.

"The provisions of this section shall not be limited or controlled by Section 6 of Article 12."

It is an amendment to Article 8, Section 1, which limits the amount of indebtedness the state may incur to $750,000, which has been the debt limit since the adoption of the present constitution in 1851. Before being adopted in its final form the Lampson proposal was amended by Judge King of Erie, Mr. Brown of Lucas and Mr. Harris of Hamilton.

The ballot was taken immediately after an amendment by Mr. Stillwell of Cuyahoga, which provided for an annual road levy of three-quarters of a mill until 1923, when the question of continuing the direct state levy should be referred back to the people, had been voted down by 67 to 44. The vote was taken under closure, after two hours of debate which followed the general drift of the previous discussions.

To Dispel Uncertainty On Next Monday

And Boston the Place For Roosevelt to Declare Himself.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—It is said here on the very best authority that Theodore Roosevelt will next Monday announce himself as ready to assume the leadership of the progressive Republicans. He will make the announcement wherever he may be Monday. New York dispatches indicate that he will be in Boston that day. This is the direct word that comes from the former president and was spread through the capital city. The former president's statement is expected to be in answer to the message from progressive Republican governors who recently met at Chicago. Just to what degree he will commit himself was not made clear.

It was announced authoritatively that Colonel Roosevelt, when he comes to Columbus tomorrow, will address crowds who are unable to gain access to the constitutional convention hall. His speech may be politically significant, more directly so than his address before the convention is said to be.

By a vote of 52 to 64, the constitutional convention refused to adjourn to the Hartman theater tomorrow morning to hear Colonel Roosevelt. The test came on a motion to suspend the rules—which requires a two-thirds vote—on the resolution of Delegate Hoskins of Auglaize, a Democrat.

Mr. Hoskins' resolution contemplated appointment of a committee of three to make proper arrangements. In explanation, he said that he already had applications for 450 tickets and feared Auglaize county folks would mob him if he did not provide for them.

The venerable Judge Sawyer of Montgomery was on his feet in one second. "This hall was big enough for President Taft and for Governor Harman and it's big enough for Theodore Roosevelt!" The convention shouted its concurrence.

Knox Concludes Was Not Insulted

Takes More Than Ospina's Snub to Make Him Change Plans.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Ignoring the letter of General Ospina, the Colombian minister to the United States, in which he informed the state department that the time may be found to be inopportune for a visit to his country by Secretary Knox, Acting Secretary Wilson has referred the entire matter to the president of Colombia and to Secretary Knox.

Regardless of the seeming affront to the state department conveyed in the terms of the letter which was given out from the Colombian legation, there has yet been no change in the tentative itinerary of Mr. Knox's trip to Central America, West Indian and northern South American countries. It was stated that there will be no change in the itinerary until the Colombian government is heard from.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—Aunt Delia Torrey of Millbury, Mass., aunt of President Taft, famous for her delicious pies, which the president has made famous, has transferred to Harry Koons of Columbus for $1 and other considerations a house in West Sec. 4 and avenue. The deed is signed by President Taft as a witness. It was filed with the county recorder by Koons.

Miller Forecasts Bankruptcy.
Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—Bankruptcy of schools in many sections of the state was predicted by State School Commissioner Miller if recommendation of the state tax commission for abolition of direct state levies were to be adopted as a state policy. He asked that Governor Harman refrain from pressing the commission's report on the general assembly.

OREGON FURNISHES TEST CASE

Issues Presented in Appeal by Telephone Company Declared to Be Political and Embraced Within Scope of Powers Conferred Upon Congress and Not Within Judicial Power—Decision Awaited With Interest in Many States.

Washington, Feb. 20.—In deciding a case from Oregon, the supreme court of the United States declined to declare invalid laws of a sovereign state passed through the initiative and referendum.

The state of Oregon, where the popular theories of government have gone further perhaps than in any other state in the Union, recently passed a law taxing the gross incomes of certain corporations. The law was passed as a result of the initiative and referendum. The Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company, a corporation doing business in Oregon, was assessed. It refused to pay the taxes and was sued in the courts. The defense by the corporation was that legislation passed as a result of the initiative and referendum was unconstitutional. Judgment was awarded against the corporation in the local courts of the state of Oregon and the judgment was afterward affirmed by the supreme court of Oregon. The case came to the supreme court of the United States on a writ of error to the supreme court of Oregon.

What the Corporation Contended.

The arguments that were submitted very early in the present term called out many questions from the chief justice and other members of the court, and resulted in colloquies that clearly foreshadowed the court's decision. The contention of the attorneys for the corporation was that legislation by the initiative and referendum was not a republican form of government such as is guaranteed by the constitution of the United States. Other questions were raised, among them that the corporation had been denied the equal protection of the laws in that they were being taxed under a law passed by the initiative and referendum method while most of the other statutes of Oregon providing for imposition of taxes were passed in the usual way through the legislature without popular intervention; but the main controversy raged around the question whether legislation by the initiative and referendum is a republican form of government.

Question Up to Congress.

The supreme court in its unanimous opinion, read by Chief Justice White, held that the "issues presented in their very essence are and have long since by this court been definitely determined to be political and governmental, and embraced within the scope of the powers conferred upon congress and not therefore within the reach of judicial power. It follows that the case presented is not within our jurisdiction."

RIOTERS KILL AND CRIPPLE NEGROES

Shooting Takes Place In Tennessee Courthouse.

Shelbyville, Tenn., Feb. 20.—Deeds of its prey in the first attempt to slaughter three negroes as they were being taken from the courthouse to jail here, a mob broke into the sheriff's office, where the wounded blacks had been taken, and shot upon them. Still two of them were alive.

Evidence that the blacks killed Special Officer S. W. Everson of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad was so strong at the preliminary hearing that the three were bound over to a higher court. As they were being taken down the courthouse steps, the mob attacked the sheriff and six deputies, killed one of the blacks and badly beat the others.

They were hurriedly taken into the sheriff's office near by and the sheriff stationed himself at the door. Reports sent out from the offices at the negroes were dead were not believed by the mob and the jail was stormed again. The sheriff was captured and one member of the mob broke down the door of the room in which the blacks were huddled and opened fire. Each of the wounded prisoners was struck. Evidently believing all three were dead, the mob entered. Later the two wounded blacks were secretly taken to jail. It is said the mob, which was composed of not more than 20 men, was made up largely of persons from Nashville, most of them employees of the railroad. Everson worked for the railroad no more. Governor Hooper has offered a reward of $500 for the capture and conviction of the mob members. The dead negro was Walt Greer and the others are Dave Neal and Sam Bomar.

Taft Picks Pitney For Vacant Seat on Supreme Bench.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The nomination of Mahlon Pitney, the chancellor of the state of New Jersey, to be associate justice of the United States supreme court as successor to the late John M. Harlan, was sent to the senate by President Taft. The president turned to Chancellor Pitney after he had found that United States Circuit Judge William C. Hook and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel would not, in his opinion, be available for the bench. The president had a conference with Chancellor Pitney when he was in Newark about three weeks ago.

Chancellor Pitney is a Republican in politics. His home is in Morristown. He is a man of calm judicial temperament, but warm in his friendships. He served two terms in congress from the old Fourth district and also served in the state senate. He served as judge of the New Jersey supreme court from 1901 to 1908, from which date his chancellorship dates.

THE accompanying illustration is not of a troupe of circus performers, much as it resembles the exhibitions sometimes given "under the big tent." It is a photograph of a fire drill which was part of a big parade and demonstration in Tokyo. The bamboo ladders on which the firemen (who belong to the regular municipal force of the Japanese capital) are seen balancing themselves are of the type used in fighting the conflagrations which are so frequent in Japanese cities, with their multitudes of flimsy wooden buildings, which offer little opportunity for the placing of ladders against their walls. The ladders shown in the photograph, it will be observed, are held upright by ropes which the firemen on the ground keep strained taut. The uniforms of the Tokyo fire fighters when they are at work carrying hose to the tops of these improvised water towers are not so ornamental as the dress parade garb shown in this picture, but even their workaday clothes are sufficiently picturesque to western eyes.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—Good roads debates broke into cheers when nearly two weeks of debate and work, the constitutional convention by a vote of 72 to 40, adopted a proposal of Mr. Lampson of Ashtabula, providing for a $50,- 000,000 bond issue by the state, the proceeds to be used in building roads throughout the state. The Lampson proposal is as follows:
"Provided, however, that the general assembly may contract debts to authorize issue of bonds to an amount which in the aggregate shall not exceed $50,000,000, for the purpose of construction, improving, maintaining, repairing and rebuilding a system of intercounty wagon roads throughout the state; not to exceed $10,000,000 in such bonds shall be issued in any one year; and there shall be levied and collected annually, by taxation, an amount sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund for their redemption at maturity.

Determined by General Laws.

"Such wagon roads shall be determined under general laws, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the state.

"The provisions of this section shall not be limited or controlled by Section 6 of Article 12."

It is an amendment to Article 8,
Section 1, which limits the amount of indebtedness the state may incur to $750,000, which has been the debt limit since the adoption of the present constitution in 1851. Before being

Lampson proposal was amended by

THE PYTHIAN DEDICATION

Confidence Lodge 265 Completes Elegant New Home and Dedicates Castle in Presence of Enormous Throng of Knights, Ladies and Admiring Friends.

Class of Fourteen Candidates Initiated Into Mysteries of Order, Followed by Banquet, Inspiring Toasts and a General Good Time.

Monday, the 19th of February, 1912, stands out the greatest day that Confidence Lodge, K. of P., 265, has ever known; a never-to-be-forgotten mile stone in the K. P. history of town and county. For this day witnessed the consummation of the brightest hopes of the order, the dedication of the new Pythian Castle. Few K. of P. lodges in the state of Ohio can boast a castle of such elegance, magnitude and completeness. The combined efforts of architects, carpenters, painters, electricians and other artisans have wrought complete success in its admirable proportions, in its utility of arrangements and harmonious color effects.

DR. R. M. HUGHEY

From early morning until the lodge met at 8 o'clock p. m., in its initiatory closed session in the new Castle crowds of interested spectators passed in and out of the portaled entrance beneath the massive stone archway, with its suggestive key-stone emblem, and not one but shared in the pride of the order over the accomplishment of its splendid lodge home.

The castle is substantially built of pressed brick and stone, with spacious lobbies on both floors, a huge banquet hall, and parlor suites on first floor, and the second floor comprising an ideal lodge hall, of splendid proportions, ante and reading rooms. An artistic color scheme of tan, buff and cream is chiefly used in decoration and is particularly effective with the golden oak finish of the woodwork. Seldom is handsomer woodwork seen. Every bit is hardwood and the beauty of the graining, especially in the big doors, is worthy of all appreciation.

The highly polished hardwood floor of the lodge room, which will be turned into a ball room whenever occasion demands, is the finest to be procured.

At night, brightly illuminated with hundreds of electric lights, luxuriant ferns and palms, giving the finishing touch to handsome furnishings and the entire ensemble one of great brilliancy, the spacious home had all the requisites of "the castle".

The dedication ceremonies were of imposing dignity at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

C. C. Combs conducted the opening exercises, after which the Grand Lodge officers took charge of the ceremonies. Brief addresses were made by G. C. C. Wallace; G. M. at A. Schuckhardt, and Archer, of Cincinnati.

Grand Chancellor Commander Wallace, waxed eloquent in his praise of the new Castle and its silent testimony to the standing of Confidence Lodge No. 265.

The mighty cord of friendship, the gentle virtue of charity, and the blessings of benevolence, the basic foundations upon which the order is formed the keynote of the addresses.

The dedication music, Mr. Kneisley, violinist, and Mr. Whelpley, pianist, was inspiring in its beauty.

There was a very large attendance at the dedication and a crush of people for the reception which followed. Great bowls of punch refreshed the thirsty and beautiful music added to the pleasure of the guests as they viewed the new building and lingered in sociality, encouraged by the hospitable K. P. entertainers.

The great banquet hall, with its 20 tables, beautifully decked with white, pink and crimson carnations, tempted reception visitors to linger for the supper beginning at 5 o'clock.

This banquet hall is the largest in town, seating 300 people. Last night a thousand plates were served and people were loud in praise of the hot chicken pie supper and the way such a great crowd was taken care of. The gathering was splendidly representative of town and county.

Mayor Smith was most efficient as chairman of the supper committee and superintended all arrangements. The Pythian Sisters, together with the wives and daughters of Confidence lodge, served the supper.

During the supper hour the same orchestra that played in the afternoon composed of James Whelpley, James Kneisley, Odd OM and Will Eyre, furnished fine music and the guests found the new castle and its entertainment so attractive that they stayed on into the evening.

The lodge hall had to be finally cleared for the closed K. of P. session and initiation.

The night meeting opened with the hall crowded to capacity. Following the formal opening, County Deputy Fred West assumed charge, and called for reports from the six lodges.

Every lodge was well represented and every report encouraging. Fayette county has nearly 1000 Knights, a very creditable showing.

The Rank of Page was conferred upon fourteen candidates, in a manner never before attempted here. From the time Odd Out, herald, announced with trumpet the appearance of the drill squads—Captains Hardway and Henry D. Smith—until the last movement was made, there was round after round of applause, something unusual in lodge affairs. Ritualistic interpretations, illustrations and music, both vocal and instrumental, were on the same high plane. New magnificent equipment added to the spectacular effects.

A decidedly pleasing incident was the arrival from Dayton of Mr. John Marshall, captain of Lola's Blue Guards, and Mr. W. C. Kershner, Frank Carr, McCord, Mayor Smith, Patton, Chaffin and others.

The Knights of Pythias are especially indebted to the building committee, composed of Jess Blackmer, chairman; George Gregg, secretary and treasurer; M. Hollahan, J. W. Wilson, J. W. Gillespie. Past C. C. Henry Smith, also gave liberally of his efforts during his regime, which extended over almost the entire time of building.

LODGE HISTORY

Confidence Lodge, No. 265, K. of P., holds honored place among the 1887, with 21 charter members.

Based upon the splendid principles of the order, Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, the lodge has steadily grown and prospered until its present membership is 330. There are seventy non-resident members located principally throughout the "boundless West".

During the past year the lodge has lost 4 highly esteemed members, Dr. S. A. Ireland, Ralph Durham, W. W. Shoop and Hibben Ervin.

Owing to the recent unexpected "Smoker" in the K. P. headquarters in the Masonic Temple it is impossible to give a list of charter members. In the fire, H. M. Kingsbury, Keeper of Records and Seals for a quarter of a century, lost a number of his well kept records, of which there are no duplicates.

The lodge held its first meetings in the Midland block; afterwards with the I. O. O. F. in the Williams block, and 10 years in the Worthington block. For the past 12 years the K. of P. occupied the third floor of the Masonic Temple and had the car-

THE PYTHIAN DEDICATION

Confidence Lodge 265 Completes Elegant New Home and Dedicates Castle in Presence of Enormous Throng of Knights, Ladies and Admiring Friends.

Class of Fourteen Candidates Initiated Into Mysteries of Order, Followed by Banquet, Inspiring Toasts and a General Good Time.

Monday, the 19th of February, 1912, stands out the greatest day that Confidence Lodge, K. of P., 265, has ever known; a never-to-be-forgotten mile stone in the K. P. history of town and county. For this day witnessed the consummation of the brightest hopes of the order, the dedication of the new Pythian Castle. Few K. of P. lodges in the state of Ohio can boast a castle of such elegance, magnitude and completeness. The combined efforts of architects, carpenters, painters, electricians and other artisans have wrought complete success in its admirable proportions, in its utility of arrangements and harmonious color effects.

DR. R. M. HUGHEY

From early morning until the lodge met at 8 o'clock p. m., in its initiatory closed session in the new Castle crowds of interested spectators passed in and out of the portaled entrance beneath the massive stone archway, with its suggestive key-stone emblem, and not one but shared in the pride of the order over the accomplishment of its splendid lodge home.

The castle is substantially built of pressed brick and stone, with spacious lobbies on both floors, a huge banquet hall, and parlor suites on first floor, and the second floor comprising an ideal lodge hall, of splendid proportions, ante and reading rooms. An artistic color scheme of tan, buff and cream is chiefly used in decoration and is particularly effective with the golden oak finish of the woodwork. Seldom is handsomer woodwork seen. Every bit is hardwood and the beauty of the graining, especially in the big doors, is worthy of all appreciation.

The highly polished hardwood floor of the lodge room, which will be turned into a ball room whenever occasion demands, is the finest to be procured.

At night, brightly illuminated with hundreds of electric lights, luxuriant ferns and palms, giving the finishing touch to handsome furnishings and the entire ensemble one of great brilliancy, the spacious home had all the requisites of "the castle".

The dedication ceremonies were of imposing dignity at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

C. C. Combs conducted the opening exercises, after which the Grand Lodge officers took charge of the ceremonies. Brief addresses were made by G. C. C. Wallace, G. M. at A. Schuckhardt, and Archer, of Cincinnati.

Grand Chancellor Commander Wallace, waxed eloquent in his praise of the new Castle and its silent testimony to the standing of Confidence Lodge No. 265.

The mighty cord of friendship, the gentle virtue of charity, and the blessings of benevolence, the basic foundations upon which the order is formed the keynote of the addresses.

The dedication music, Mr. Kneisley, violinist, and Mr. Whelpley, pianist, was inspiring in its beauty.

There was a very large attendance at the dedication and a crush of people for the reception which followed. Great bowls of punch refreshed the thirsty and beautiful music added to the pleasure of the guests as they viewed the new building and lingered in sociability, encouraged by the hospitable K. P. entertainers.

The great banquet hall, with its 20 tables, beautifully decked with white, pink and crimson carnations, tempted reception visitors to linger for the supper beginning at 5 o'clock.

This banquet hall is the largest in town, seating 300 people. Last night a thousand plates were served and people were loud in praise of the hot chicken pie supper and the way such a great crowd was taken care of. The gathering was splendidly representative of town and county.

denominational lines. The speaker shows what is the destiny of the foolish virgins. And his deduction is said to be both reasonable and satisfactory to the Christian intellect.

There were a number of developments Monday night in the mysterious Caudle case which came to light at the Arlington hotel.

Deputy Sheriff Moore, of Wilmington arrived on the B. & O. 4:15 train and took Mrs. Caudle home with him on the 6:14 train. She accompanied the officer without resistance of any kind.

It also develops that during the night Attorney Cliff Martin and Sheriff Osborn arrived here, hired a rig and drove to Jeffersonville, where in the middle of the night they routed a man out of bed and prevailed upon him to give checks on the Jeffersonville banks for $350 and turn over a sum in cash. The man who gave the name of Carl Dean, a photographer of Napoleon, Ohio, was evidently in possession of money belonging to the woman who had been staying with him and whom he claimed was his wife.

The couple had given notice of intending to open a photograph gallery in Jeffersonville, and had paid two months' rent for a room belonging to Mrs. Gray.

After securing the money the Clinton county sheriff and the attorney drove back to this city and left on the paper train for Wilmington.

When called by phone Sheriff Osborn refused to talk concerning the case, but admitted that he had visited Jeffersonville during the night and that the woman at Jeffersonville and the Caudle woman are one and the same.

Dean is reported to have left Jeffersonville.

It is now stated that Dean, under the name of C. Spencer, Hicksville, O., registered at the Arlington hotel on Feb. 9, and Sheriff Osborn claims Dean and Spencer are one. Two days later Spencer met a train and returned to the hotel with the Caudle woman, asking for a room for two which was refused. He remained over night, while the woman went away. She returned a few times for her meals and disappeared.

Her husband, Frank Caudle, is said to be a traveling man for a Toledo house. The couple are said to have two children.

At a meeting of the Union Township school board held Saturday, two of the best teachers in the service resigned their positions—J. N. Baughn, and S. A. Murray. The former gave up school work to devote his attention to his farm. The latter will take a teachers' commercial and business course.

Miss Nellie Rowan was elected to succeed Mr. Baughn and W. W. De-wees succeeds Mr. Murray.

At the same meeting Mr. J. M. Hartman was unanimously elected to the township superintendency for next year.

The township schools are in good condition, with a total enrollment of 413, while 74 are attending other schools.

BIG MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

Beginning March 1st and continuing for 30 days, the Y. M. C. A. will conduct a whirl-wind campaign for members. No particular mark has been set, but it is hoped by the committee in charge that the numbers to be secured will not fall below a half thousand. Now that the work on the big association building is nearing completion, it is natural that every attention be directed toward securing as large a membership as possible. The campaign is to be country-wide. All the centers of population throughout the county are to be organized and the circulars for the campaign it is hoped will reach every home.

Ray F. Zaner, general secretary of the association will head the campaign committee. Walter Clark and Prof. McElwain, of this city will organize the two contesting teams.

Any man or boy may enter the contest by making application to Ray F. Zaner, who will make the assignments to the teams and provide each with the necessary blanks and information.

A banquet is to be given to the side securing the most memberships. A free membership for a year will be given every man or boy who secures 15 or more applications.

A big clock will be put up on the Y. M. C. A., and each day of the contest the hands will indicate the progress being made by each team.

As this is an organization for all our men and boys, provided by the good people of our town and county, the interest in this campaign will be shared by all. This is our Y. M. C. A., so let us boost our membership campaign to beat the band.

First—Let's get on one of those teams and then we'll go after those applications to win.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT.

Arguments in the case of English vs. Sheridan, wherein plaintiff asked judgment for $200 for the loss of a horse alleged to have been killed by a horse belonging to defendant, were concluded shortly before noon today, and the case was given to the jury.

After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Amended Petition Filed

An amended petition has been filed in the case of Ouida Wilson vs. Walter Wilson, a divorce proceeding, eliminating the co-respondent and praying for a divorce upon the grounds of cruelty.

BANKS CLOSE THURSDAY.

The city banks will all be closed on Thursday, February the 22nd.

There were a number of developments Monday night in the mysterious Caudle case which came to light at the Arlington hotel.

Deputy Sheriff Moore, of Wilmington arrived on the B. & O. 4:15 train and took Mrs. Caudle home with him on the 6:14 train. She accompanied the officer without resistance of any kind.

It also develops that during the night Attorney Cliff Martin and Sheriff Osborn arrived here, hired a rig and drove to Jeffersonville, where in the middle of the night they routed a man out of bed and prevailed upon him to give checks on the Jeffersonville banks for $350 and turn over a sum in cash. The man who gave the name of Carl Dean, a photographer of Napoleon, Ohio, was evidently in possession of money belonging to the woman who had been staying with him and whom he claimed was his wife.

The couple had given notice of intending to open a photograph gallery in Jeffersonville, and had paid two months' rent for a room belonging to Mrs. Gray.

After securing the money the Clinton county sheriff and the attorney drove back to this city and left on the paper train for Wilmington.

When called by phone Sheriff Osborn refused to talk concerning the case, but admitted that he had visited Jeffersonville during the night and that the woman at Jeffersonville and the Caudle woman are one and the same.

Dean is reported to have left Jeffersonville.

It is now stated that Dean, under the name of C. Spencer, Hicksville, O., registered at the Arlington hotel on Feb. 9, and Sheriff Osborn claims Dean and Spencer are one. Two days later Spencer met a train and returned to the hotel with the Caudle woman, asking for a room for two which was refused. He remained over night, while the woman went away. She returned a few times for her meals and disappeared.

Her husband, Frank Caudle, is said to be a traveling man for a Toledo house. The couple are said to have two children.

HE WON'T LIMP NOW.

Union School Notes Several Changes Made

At a meeting of the Union Township school board held Saturday, two of the best teachers in the service resigned their positions—J. N. Baughn and S. A. Murray. The former gave up school work to devote his attention to his farm. The latter will take a teachers' commercial and business course.

Miss Nellie Rowan was elected to succeed Mr. Baughn and W. W. De-wees succeeds Mr. Murray.

At the same meeting Mr. J. M. Hartman was unanimously elected to the township superintendency for next year.

The township schools are in good condition, with a total enrollment of 413, while 74 are attending other schools.

BIG MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

Beginning March 1st and continuing for 30 days, the Y. M. C. A. will conduct a whirlwind campaign for members. No particular mark has been set, but it is hoped by the committee in charge that the numbers to be secured will not fall below a half thousand. Now that the work on the big association building is nearing completion, it is natural that every attention be directed toward securing as large a membership as possible. The campaign is to be country-wide. All the centers of population throughout the county are to be organized and the circulars for the campaign it is hoped will reach every home.

Ray F. Zaner, general secretary of the association will head the campaign committee. Walter Clark and Prof. McElwain, of this city will organize the two contesting teams.

Any man or boy may enter the contest by making application to Ray F. Zaner, who will make the assignments to the teams and provide each with the necessary blanks and information.

A banquet is to be given to the side securing the most memberships. A free membership for a year will be given every man or boy who secures 15 or more applications.

A big clock will be put up on the Y. M. C. A., and each day of the contest the hands will indicate the progress being made by each team.

As this is an organization for all our men and boys, provided by the good people of our town and county, the interest in this campaign will be shared by all. This is our Y. M. C. A., so let us boost our membership campaign to beat the band.

First—Let's get on one of those teams and then we'll go after those applications to win.

THE LIAR.

The liar is always a weak man. Some men think it is "smooth" to lie. There was a time in the history of civilization when the highest art of diplomacy consisted solely of the most consummate deception. Queen Elizabeth and Napoleon were of that type. Both have been characterized by history as boundless liars. But whether it be in the affairs of nations or in the field of private business, the practice of telling lies is no longer approved by the public in general. It is actually a mark of weakness. Only the little fellow needs (or thinks he needs) augment his natural powers by lies. They are no real help to any one, and the truly great man sees they are not. When a man deceives he inevitably subtract from his own soul. Man was made to tell the truth and only in so doing can his life become greater.

THE CUSTOM OF PARDON.

There is much discussion as to whether the "Board of Pardons" should, after the fullest investigation, set convicts free from the penitentiary. There are two ways of looking at the question. One is that, a judge in a moment of excited indignation brought about by exaggerated details of the crime, can tell just to the year and the hour how much suffering a prisoner should undergo in order to repay society for the suffering and inconvenience that he has caused it. Also that ten men ought to suffer five years each, more than they deserve in order that one man may not be relieved one year too soon.

The other view is that a hundred men deserving imprisonment should be set at liberty rather than one just man receive unjust punishment. Which of these views under the light of Christ's teaching is the correct one? It ought to make the people of Ohio blush with shame to read the opinions of some of our prominent politicians on this subject. They talk as though the rack and thumb screw would be great aids to civilization.

There are still a few crows on the dead branches of pessimism who think we are going to have a panic at once. And don't you know when we hear one of these fellows talk he throws so much enthusiasm into his argument that he seems to really want to see a panic with all its attendant evils and miseries just that he may style himself a prophet. Be a "bull" not a jackass.

Fine weather after the long winter. Most men are humping themselves. Still there are a few who are just stretching themselves.

The song of the auto along our country roadsides, and the subdued profanity of our teamsters will soon proclaim spring.

How One May Prolong His Days

By J. F. Lockwood

The death of John Bigelow calls attention to the beauty of the old who die in the full possession of their faculties—in the vigor of old manhood. Yet the full possession of the faculties at old age—yes, the attainment of old age itself—lies greatly with the individual.

The individual by regulation of diet and drink may live long. Perhaps one of the greatest deterrents to longevity is the common practice of eating too much. Nearly everybody eats overmuch, particularly of meat.

The eating of too much meat causes ferments and toxins in the body that are injurious and result in the breaking down of the kidneys. Too much food lays on fat and too much fat is a deterrent to good health.

As to drinking, everybody should drink four pints of water at least daily. The water, however, must be soft and pure, as hard water carries too much lime with it.

By careful dieting, careful drinking and letting intoxicating liquors strictly alone, and with some gentle exercise, one should live to a ripe, vigorous old age.

Schedule of Wages for Good Cooks

By Herman Soelter

What are the wages of professional man cooks? There are great differences, because there are so many different cooks, good, bad and indifferent.

There are chefs, sauciers, second cooks, soup cooks, broilers, roast cooks, fry cooks, cold meat cooks, chafing dish, etc. Some know how to handle all of these stations, some handle a few, and some only one.

This covers only the first-class hotels and restaurants. Their pay is as follows:

The chef, from $150 to $750 a month; cooks, $50 to $150 a month.

But restaurants and hotels that have from one to six cooks pay $10 to $30 a week, and again, the camp cook and the cooks in small railroad eating houses get from $30 to $70 a month.

ROCK ME TO SLEEP, MOTHER.

Backward, turn backward, O Time,
In your flight!
Make me a child again, just for tonight,
Mother come back with the soap as of old,
Dig in my ears while my chin you still hold,
Rub from my forehead the traces of mud;
Scrub my thick, curly locks with the white sud,
Then o'er my slumbers your loving watch keep—
Rock me to sleep, mother; rock me to sleep!

Backing out by the front door, the bandit jumped from the train, which was still puffing along at a slow rate owing to the heavy grade, and disappeared down the mountainside. The train was stopped, but a search for the fugitive seemed fruitless, and the locomotive was started again.

THE PYTHIAN DEDICATION

Confidence Lodge 265 Completes Elegant New Home and Dedicates Castle in Presence of Enormous Throng of Knights, Ladies and Admiring Friends.

Class of Fourteen Candidates Initiated Into Mysteries of Order, Followed by Banquet, Inspiring Toasts and a General Good Time.

Monday, the 19th of February, 1912, stands out the greatest day that Confidence Lodge, K. of P., 265, has ever known; a never-to-be-forgotten mile stone in the K. P. history of town and county. For this day witnessed the consummation of the brightest hopes of the order, the dedication of the new Pythian Castle. Few K. of P. lodges in the state of Ohio can boast a castle of such elegance, magnitude and completeness. The combined efforts of architects, carpenters, painters, electricians and other artisans have wrought complete success in its admirable proportions, in its utility of arrangements and harmonious color effects.

DR. R. M. HUGHEY

From early morning until the lodge met at 8 o'clock p. m., in its initiatory closed session in the new Castle crowds of interested spectators passed in and out of the portaled entrance beneath the massive stone archway, with its suggestive key-stone emblem, and not one but shared in the pride of the order over the accomplishment of its splendid lodge home.

The castle is substantially built of pressed brick and stone, with spacious lobbies on both floors, a huge banquet hall, and parlor suites on first floor, and the second floor comprising an ideal lodge hall, of splendid proportions, ante and reading rooms. An artistic color scheme of tan, buff and cream is chiefly used in decoration and is particularly effective with the golden oak finish of the woodwork. Seldom is handsomer woodwork seen. Every bit is hardwood and the beauty of the graining, especially in the big doors, is worthy of all appreciation.

The highly polished hardwood floor of the lodge room, which will be turned into a ball room whenever occasion demands, is the finest to be procured.

At night, brightly illuminated with hundreds of electric lights, luxuriant ferns and palms, giving the finishing touch to handsome furnishings and the entire ensemble one of great brilliancy, the spacious home had all the requisites of "the castle".

The dedication ceremonies were of imposing dignity at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

C. C. Combs conducted the opening exercises, after which the Grand Lodge officers took charge of the ceremonies. Brief addresses were made by G. C. C. Wallace, G. M. at A. Schuckhardt, and Archer, of Cincinnati.

Grand Chancellor Commander Wallace, waxed eloquent in his praise of the new Castle and its silent testimony to the standing of Confidence Lodge No. 265.

The mighty cord of friendship, the gentle virtue of charity, and the blessings of benevolence, the basic foundations upon which the order is formed the keynote of the addresses.

The dedication music, Mr. Kneisley, violinist, and Mr. Whelpley, pianist, was inspiring in its beauty.

There was a very large attendance at the dedication and a crush of people for the reception which followed. Great bowls of punch refreshed the thirsty and beautiful music added to the pleasure of the guests as they viewed the new building and lingered in sociality, encouraged by the hospitable K. P. entertainers.

The great banquet hall, with its 20 tables, beautifully decked with white, pink and crimson carnations, tempted reception visitors to linger for the supper beginning at 5 o'clock.

This banquet hall is the largest in town, seating 300 people. Last night a thousand plates were served and people were loud in praise of the hot chicken pie supper and the way such a great crowd was taken care of. The gathering was splendidly representative of town and county.

Mayor Smith was most efficient as chairman of the supper committee and superintended all arrangements.

The Pythian Sisters, together with the wives and daughters of Confidence lodge, served the supper.

During the supper hour the same orchestra that played in the afternoon composed of James Whelpley, James Kneisley, Odd Ott and Will Eyre, furnished fine music and the guests found the new castle and its entertainment so attractive that they stayed on into the evening.

The lodge hall had to be finally cleared for the closed K. of P. session and initiation.

The night meeting opened with the hall crowded to capacity. Following the formal opening, County Deputy Fred West assumed charge, and called for reports from the six lodges.

Every lodge was well represented and every report encouraging. Fayette county has nearly 1000 Knights, a very creditable showing.

The Rank of Page was conferred upon fourteen candidates, in a manner never before attempted here. From the time Odd Ott, herald, announced with trumpet the appearance of the drill squads—Captains Hardway and Henry D. Smith—until the last movement was made, there was round after round of applause, something unusual in lodge affairs. Ritualistic interpretations, illustrations and music, both vocal and instrumental, were on the same high plane. New magnificent equipment added to the spectacular effects.

A decidedly pleasing incident was the arrival from Dayton of Mr. John Marshall, captain of Iowa's Blue Guards, and Mr. W. C. Kershner,

O. E. HARDWAY

Chancellor Commander when Castle plans were inaugurated.

Frank Carr, McCord, Mayor Smith, Patton, Chaffin and others.

The Knights of Pythias are especially indebted to the building committee, composed of Jess Blackmer, chairman; George Gregg, secretary and treasurer; M. Hollahan, J. W. Wilson, J. W. Gillespie. Past C. C. Henry Smith, also gave liberally of his efforts during his regime, which extended over almost the entire time of building.

LODGE HISTORY

Confidence Lodge, No. 265, K. of P., holds honored place among the 1887, with 21 charter members.

Based upon the splendid principles of the order, Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, the lodge has steadily grown and prospered until its present membership is 330. There are seventy non-resident members located principally throughout the "boundless West".

During the past year the lodge has lost 4 highly esteemed members, Dr. S. A. Ireland, Ralph Durham, W. W. Shoop and Hibben-Ervin.

Owing to the recent unexpected "Smoker" in the K. P. headquarters in the Masonic Temple it is impossible to give a list of charter members. In the fire, H. M. Kingsbury, Keeper of Records and Seals for a quarter of a century, lost a number of his well kept records, of which there are no duplicates.

The lodge held its first meetings in the Midland block; afterwards with the I. O. O. F. in the Williams block, and 10 years in the Worthington block. For the past 12 years the K. of P. occupied the third floor of the Masonic Temple and had the car-

PYTHIAN CASTLE

Splendid new home of Confidence Lodge 265, said to be the finest Pythian Lodge Home in Ohio.

Pythian Home director, special messengers bearing tokens of friendship from the men who are universally conceded to be the greatest exponents of Pythianism in the world—the team of Iowa lodge—in the form of two rosewood gavels, with silver bands on which were engraved "Iola to Confidence Lodge No. 265, February 19, 1912," the clever handiwork of Master-of-Work Ellison, of Iowa lodge. The presentation was made by Mr. Marshall in his characteristic way, and there was an overflow of the joy bucket, and renewed applause, this time of the wild and woolly brand.

Dr. Hughey, matchless toastmaster, entered the limelight, and for nearly two hours entertained the crowd, drawing some fine sentiment from Grand Chancellor Wallace, Deputy West, Knights Kershner, C. A. Reid, 800 K. P. lodges, which have been organized in Ohio since the founding of the order 48 years ago last night.

Fayette county alone enrolls 1000 Knights of Pythias.

Confidence Lodge, K. of P., 265, had its birth on December the 7th, sets up preparatory to moving December 30th, when it was burned out. The fire destroyed all its property, not only the afore-mentioned records, but the things of priceless value, pictures, books, flags, gavels, one from Logan Elm, and other trophies which had been valued gifts.

Liability Board Apportions Rates Among Employers.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—The state liability board of awards, which will handle the state insurance fund operative under the new workmen's compensation act, has announced the amount of premiums which will be charged employers per $100 of wages. The highest rate will be charged employers of men blasting in stone quarries, where, the board considers, the risk is very great. The minimum charge for this class of insurance is $1.50 and the maximum $72.80. The lowest charge for protection is made to textile manufacturers, where employers having had but an average of 10 accidents per year for three years or more will be taxed but 35 cents per $100 of wages; the highest rate on this class is $15. The board will contract for insurance with no plan for a longer period than six months; if at the expiration of a contract the accidents in a plant have been noticeably fewer or more than was estimated by the firm, the rates will be proportionately raised or lowered in the next contract. The new law will become effective March 1, after which employers who do not join will be deprived of their three common-law defenses in damage suits instigated by injured or the relatives of employees killed at work.

Hartman Theater

Margaret Anglin, the distinguished actress, will make her first appearance in comedy for some years before the Columbus public at the Hartman Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 1st and 2nd, with a Saturday matinee. Her vehicle is "Green Stockings", a fabric of fun, written by A. E. W. Mason, the English novelist. The piece is so constructed that it gives Miss Anglin opportunity to demonstrate what she has shown before she adhered to emotional roles—that she is a comedienne of the very highest skill. The story concerns a spinster, who, to protect herself against the jeers of her neighbors, because of her unwed state, announces her engagement to a fictitious personage. Later she announces that he has died and she goes in mourning. At this point a man appears upon the scene with the same name as the one used by the spinster. He sees the fun in the situation and presses his rights as a fiance. From this point on the comedy sparkles with fun at every turn. Miss Anglin is supported by a notable cast.

THE PAGEANT TO BE SPECTACULAR

Historic Feature of "World in Cincinnati" to be Impressive and Instructive.

OUTLINE OF THE FIVE EPISODES

Many of the Thrilling and Dramatic Incidents of the History of Missions Will Be Re-enacted by Players at Exposition.

The Pageant of Darkness and Light is to be the most spectacular feature of the great Missionary Exposition, "The World in Cincinnati," at Music Hall, March 9 to April 6. The purpose of the pageant is to set forth the great historical events of missionary effort in an instructive and inspiring way.

It will be probably the greatest spectacular presentation Cincinnati has ever seen. In four of the five episodes, from 150 to 200 people will be on the platform. More than 3,000 persons, volunteers, are being trained for the Pageant. There will be 1,500 in the grand choir alone and another 1,500 for the platform are to serve in relays on different days. More than 1,000 children will take part also. The costumes and splendid scenery used at the first presentation of the Pageant in London, England, have been brought to Cincinnati for its production.

The five scenes which constitute the Pageant may be briefly summarized as follows:

Episode I.—The North.

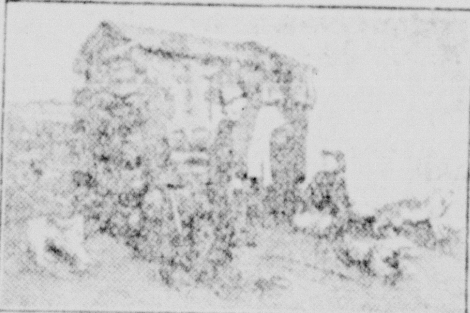

The scene represents an Indian camp in the far Northwest. The chief and his wife are in distress at the loss of their little daughter, who strayed from the line of march three days ago. To the camp comes a band of Eskimos for trading purposes. The medicine man incites the braves to kill them. Just as they are about to do so a missionary enters. He brings the chief's little daughter, whom he found straying in the woods. Thus he gains the chief's good will and a hearing for his message.

Episode II.—The South.

The scene is in the outskirts of Ujjai, where Livingstone is resting for a while after long journeyings. His men are building a mission house. During mid-day rest Livingstone is full of thoughts of home. A runner comes panting in with news of the coming of a white man. Then Stanley enters. He begs Livingstone to return with him. Livingstone's men hang upon his words. He is sorely tempted, but—no, he can not go until his work is done.

Episode III.—The East.

Scene I is in a city in India. A crowd surrounds the missionaries' house, clamoring for the return to her relatives of a child-wife, whom they have been educating. The child flees down the street, the relatives follow, capture her, and return in triumph. In Scene II, a native procession is going to a temple. There enters a funeral procession, leading a young woman to the funeral pyre of her husband. Just as the pyre is to be lighted the Government official strides in with a proclamation doing away with the "suttee," as the rite of widow burning was called.

Episode IV.—The West.

The scene is a coral beach in Hawaii. Behind is the volcano Kilanea. A wedding group is sporting in the sunshine. The volcano roars. One recalls the fact that when Pele, the Goddess of the lake of fire, is angered, she sends her priest to claim victims to appease her wrath. The priest is seen on the mountain-side. He claims the bridegroom, and a child playing unconsciously among the flowers. As he is about to lead them to their doom, Queen Papiotani appears and defies Pele. The priest curses her. She bids him lead her to the crater, and there—after the fashion of Elijah on Carmel—she taunts and defies the goddess, and breaks the power of Pele forever.

Episode V.—The Final Procession.

Singing a grand procession, the great choir, and all who have taken part in the previous episodes, march in four different processions down the aisles of the Pageant Hall, forming in a tableaux on the platform around a cross, and all bearing golden palm branches. The closing chorus is sung and at a signal from the drums of the orchestra of 39 pieces, the entire audience rise and sing the long metre doxology.

The Pageant in Cincinnati.

This Pageant is to be reproduced for the second time in America, in the auditorium of the Music Hall, every afternoon and evening, from March 9th to April 6th. This building is admirably adapted to it, more so than either of those in which it has been given before.

Mid-year Meeting Dates Announced

The members of the various W. C. T. U. organizations of this county are looking forward with great anticipation to the coming mid-year meeting, to be held the first week in March, which will bring to our city many earnest Christian women, all working for the uplift of mankind along the line of temperance.

Among those to be present are the state president of the W. C. T. U., county presidents numbering one for each of the 88 counties of Ohio and probably more, since several counties have more than one organized union; also many superintendents of department work and private citizens.

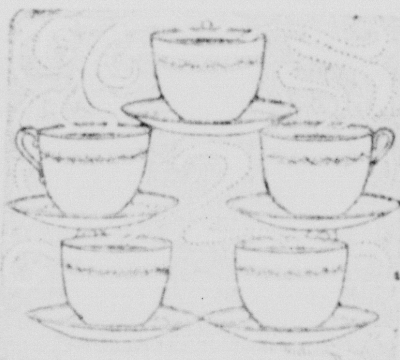

At a recent meeting of the local W. C. T. U., Mrs. Davies read a biographical sketch of Miss Francis Willard, who devoted thirty years in strenuous battle for the cause of temperance.

To the county union, Mrs. Laura York, of Good Hope, presented a beautiful banner, decorated with gold and embroidered with white carnations, the work of Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman.

ALMOST LOST HIS LIFE.

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

demonstrational lines. The speaker shows what is the destiny of the foolish virgins. And his deduction is said to be both reasonable and satisfactory to the Christian intellect.

There were a number of developments Monday night in the mysterious Caudle case which came to light at the Arlington hotel.

Deputy Sheriff Moore, of Wilmington arrived on the B. & O. 4:15 train and took Mrs. Caudle home with him on the 6:14 train. She accompanied the officer without resistance of any kind.

It also develops that during the night Attorney Cliff Martin and Sheriff Osborn arrived here, hired a rig and drove to Jeffersonville, where in the middle of the night they routed a man out of bed and prevailed upon him to give checks on the Jeffersonville banks for $350 and turn over a sum in cash. The man who gave the name of Carl Dean, a photographer of Napoleon, Ohio, was evidently in possession of money belonging to the woman who had been staying with him and whom he claimed was his wife.

The couple had given notice of intending to open a photograph gallery in Jeffersonville, and had paid two months' rent for a room belonging to Mrs. Gray.

After securing the money the Clinton county sheriff and the attorney drove back to this city and left on the paper train for Wilmington.

When called by phone Sheriff Osborn refused to talk concerning the case, but admitted that he had visited Jeffersonville during the night and that the woman at Jeffersonville and the Caudle woman are one and the same.

Dean is reported to have left Jeffersonville.

It is now stated that Dean, under the name of C. Spencer, Hicksville, O., registered at the Arlington hotel on Feb. 9, and Sheriff Osborn claims Dean and Spencer are one. Two days later Spencer met a train and returned to the hotel with the Caudle woman, asking for a room for two which was refused. He remained over night, while the woman went away. She returned a few times for her meals and disappeared.

Her husband, Frank Caudle, is said to be a traveling man for a Toledo house. The couple are said to have two children.

HE WON'T LIMP NOW.

Union School Notes
Several Changes Made

At a meeting of the Union Township school board held Saturday, two of the best teachers in the service resigned their positions—J. N. Baughn, and S. A. Murray. The former gave up school work to devote his attention to his farm. The latter will take a teachers' commercial and business course.

Miss Nellie Rowan was elected to succeed Mr. Baughn and W. W. DeWees succeeds Mr. Murray.

At the same meeting Mr. J. M. Hartman was unanimously elected to the township superintendency for next year.

The township schools are in good condition, with a total enrollment of 413, while 74 are attending other schools.

BIG MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

Beginning March 1st and continuing for 30 days, the Y. M. C. A. will conduct a whirlwind campaign for members. No particular mark has been set, but it is hoped by the committee in charge that the numbers to be secured will not fall below a half thousand. Now that the work on the big association building is nearing completion, it is natural that every attention be directed toward securing as large a membership as possible. The campaign is to be country-wide. All the centers of population throughout the county are to be organized and the circulars for the campaign it is hoped will reach every home.

Ray F. Zaner, general secretary of the association will head the campaign committee. Walter Clark and Prof. McElwain, of this city will organize the two contesting teams.

Any man or boy may enter the contest by making application to Ray F. Zaner, who will make the assignments to the teams and provide each with the necessary blanks and information.

A banquet is to be given to the side securing the most memberships. A free membership for a year will be given every man or boy who secures 15 or more applications.

A big clock will be put up on the Y. M. C. A., and each day of the contest the hands will indicate the progress being made by each team.

As this is an organization for all our men and boys, provided by the good people of our town and county, the interest in this campaign will be shared by all. This is our Y. M. C. A., so let us boost our membership campaign to beat the band.

First—Let's get on one of those teams and then we'll go after those applications to win.

Thurman Palmer was released Monday from the county jail on $200 bond to await the action of the grand jury. He has been in jail since being bound over by Mayor Smith following the robbery of a suit case belonging to W. R. Shockey, which was rifled at the D. T. & I. depot on the night of January 30. Five youths were charged with having been implicated in the robbery, including Palmer, Derrell, Devore, Chas. Butters, Edward and Harry Burnett.

All of the boys were arrested, but after the hearing Harry Burnett and Chas. Butters were released. The other three were bound over to the grand jury on the charge of larceny and their bonds were fixed at $200 each. Devore and Ed Burnett gave bond and were released.

LOW TEMPERATURES, POSSIBLE DAMAGE TO PEACH BUDS.

Mr. J. Warren Smith, professor of Meteorology, U. S. Weather Bureau, Columbus, says dormant buds of some varieties of peaches are killed when the temperature of the air falls to about 12 degrees below zero, while other varieties will stand a temperature of 15 degrees to 18 degrees below zero.

During January, 1912, the temperature was 37 degrees below zero at Milligan, Perry county, and was over 30 degrees below zero in low valleys in parts of Portage, Columbiana, Guernsey, Hocking, Athens and Ross counties.

The temperature was more than 15 degrees below zero in nearly all sections of the state except along Lake Erie, in parts of the Ohio river valley, and on some of the highest points in the state. The lowest temperature occurred generally on the morning of the 13th.

The valleys are always colder than the hills; also, on such nights the air that has been cooled on the hillsides slides down into the valleys and is replaced by horizontally moving currents of warmer air.

High level points showed temperatures from 10 to 15 degrees below zero, hence it is probable that peach orchards located at or near the highest points of land escaped complete loss, while all those at lower levels were killed.

Experiments in orchard heating, with oil pots of one gallon capacity set about 80 to the acre, coal heaters about 60 to the acre, or wood fires about 45 to the acre, show that the temperature can be kept from 10 to 15 degrees higher in the orchard than prevails outside.

This being the case, systematic orchard heating might have saved the bulk of the peach crop during this cold spell at an expense of $2 or $3 per acre.

It is the brains and the life time experience together with the careful selection of the material that enters into the building of a piano, that gives to it the actual value expected and desired by every piano purchaser, and not the fabulous or ridiculous price asked by inexperienced dealers. ARMY OF VOLUNTEERS

Great Exposition Has Enlisted
Fourteen Thousand Workers

Two Hundred Churches Are Co-Operating to Make Success of "World in Cincinnati."

A total of about 14,000 volunteer workers have been enrolled for "The World in Cincinnati" Missionary Exposition, which will be open in Music Hall March 9 to April 6. The names of this army of people have been received from more than 200 churches of Cincinnati and vicinity.

The workers are divided into several classes. There are more than 5,000 stewards, men and women, both young and old, who will serve in relays and populate the various scenes and sections of the Exposition, explaining to visitors everything that may be seen. Most of these stewards will wear the costume of the country to which they have been assigned. There are nearly 5,000 Pageant workers also. About half of the Pageant workers are members of the grand choir. They will sing the splendid choruses of the Pageant of Darkness and Light, wearing a suitable costume and occupying seats in the Pageant hall outside of the proscenium arch. The other half of the Pageant workers take the parts of the people of various foreign lands upon the platform, impersonating American Indians, Eskimos, natives of Africa, people of India and Hawaiians.

There will be at least 1,000 ushers, all men, who will act as guides, doorkeepers and in other ways keep the crowds moving. In all about 2,500 children will be required. Several hundred of these will be trained to play the games which the children of foreign lands play, and this they will do in the different foreign scenes of the Exposition, thus illustrating the child life of non-Christian lands. All will wear appropriate costumes.

Besides these three groups of children, all of whom are to have work to do in the Exposition proper, between 1,500 and 2,000 are being enrolled to take part in the great final episode of the Pageant of Darkness and Light. They will march in a procession down one of the aisles of the Pageant Hall to the platform, where, with all of the other Pageant participants, they will form a part of the great closing tableau.

THE LIAR.

The liar is always a weak man. Some men think it is "smooth" to lie. There was a time in the history of civilization when the highest art of diplomacy consisted solely of the most consummate deception. Queen Elizabeth and Napoleon were of that type. Both have been characterized by history as boundless liars. But whether it be in the affairs of nations or in the field of private business, the practice of telling lies is no longer approved by the public in general. It is actually a mark of weakness. Only the little fellow needs (or thinks he needs) augment his natural powers by lies. They are no real help to any one, and the truly great man sees they are not. When a man deceives he inevitably subtract from his own soul. Man was made to tell the truth and only in so doing can his life become greater.

THE CUSTOM OF PARDON.

There is much discussion as to whether the "Board of Pardons" should, after the fullest investigation, set convicts free from the penitentiary. There are two ways of looking at the question. One is that, a judge in a moment of excited indignation brought about by exaggerated details of the crime, can tell just to the year and the hour how much suffering a prisoner should undergo in order to repay society for the suffering and inconvenience that he has caused it. Also that ten men ought to suffer five years each, more than they deserve in order that one man may not be relieved one year too soon.

The other view is that a hundred men deserving imprisonment should be set at liberty rather than one just man receive unjust punishment. Which of these views under the light of Christ's teaching is the correct one? It ought to make the people of Ohio blush with shame to read the opinions of some of our prominent politicians on this subject. They talk as though the rack and thumb screw would be great aids to civilization.

There are still a few crows on the dead branches of pessimism who think we are going to have a panic at once. And don't you know when we hear one of these fellows talk he throws so much enthusiasm into his argument that he seems to really want to see a panic with all its attendant evils and miseries just that he may style himself a prophet. Be a "bull" not a jackass.

Fine weather after the long winter. Most men are humping themselves. Still there are a few who are just stretching themselves.

The song of the auto along our country roadsides, and the subdued profanity of our teamsters will soon proclaim spring.

How One May Prolong His Days

By J. F. Lockwood

The death of John Bigelow calls attention to the beauty of the old who die in the full possession of their faculties—in the vigor of old manhood. Yet the full possession of the faculties at old age—yes, the attainment of old age itself—lies greatly with the individual.

The individual by regulation of diet and drink may live long. Perhaps one of the greatest deterrents to longevity is the common practice of eating too much. Nearly everybody eats overmuch, particularly of meat.

The eating of too much meat causes ferments and toxins in the body that are injurious and result in the breaking down of the kidneys. Too much food lays on fat and too much fat is a deterrent to good health.

As to drinking, everybody should drink four pints of water at least daily. The water, however, must be soft and pure, as hard water carries too much lime with it.

By careful dieting, careful drinking and letting intoxicating liquors strictly alone, and with some gentle exercise, one should live to a ripe, vigorous old age.

Schedule of Wages for Good Cooks

from one to six cooks pay $10 to $30 a week, and again, the camp cook and the cooks in small railroad eating houses get from $30 to $70 a month.

What are the wages of professional man cooks? There are great differences, because there are so many different cooks, good, bad and indifferent.

There are chefs, sauciers, second cooks, soup cooks, broilers, roast cooks, fry cooks, cold meat cooks, chafing dish, etc. Some know how to handle all of these stations, some handle a few, and some only one.

This covers only the first-class hotels and restaurants. Their pay is as follows: The chef, from $150 to $750 a month; cooks, $50 to $150 a month.

But restaurants and hotels that have Quaking with fear, the passengers, some of them called from their berths, obeyed the demands of the robber, and the pile of money and jewelry grew until the last person had run the gauntlet.

Backing out by the front door, the bandit jumped from the train, which was still puffing along at a slow rate owing to the heavy grade, and disappeared down the mountainside. The train was stopped, but a search for the fugitive seemed fruitless, and the locomotive was started again.

Edward Fite Purchases Cockerill Grocery Store

The partnership heretofore existing in the big grocery and queensware store of S. S. Cockerill & Son, has been dissolved and all the interests have been purchased by Mr. Edward Fite, of Cleveland, a son-in-law of the late S. S. Cockerill. Mr. Fite arrived in the city Saturday and the big deal was closed upon the completion of an invoice instituted immediately upon his arrival. Under the terms of the deal Mr. Fite took charge of the business at once. He announces that there will be no change in the name of the firm or the policy so long successfully employed. Mr. Fite is a man of 15 years' experience in the grocery business at Georgetown and Cleveland, and comes well prepared to manage the Cockerill store. With his brother, Lucien, Mr. Fite was the owner of three grocery stores at Cleveland, selling out his interests to his brother only a few days ago to engage in business here. Mr. Earl Cockerill, who has been in active management of the Cockerill store for several years, will hereafter be located in Dayton, expecting to take up his residence there within a month. In the meantime in company with his wife he will take a trip and needed rest. Some time ago Mr. Cockerill became financially interested in the B. & B. Baking Co., at Dayton, of which he is treasurer. This is a large and solid institution, doing a vast business in baking square cakes, the output being sold at wholesale by a retinue of traveling men throughout ten adjoining states. Mr. Cockerill will hereafter give his time and attention to the big baking business and his connection with the home office of the concern will necessitate his residence in Dayton.

Woman Attempts To Commit Suicide

Dr. D. H. Rowe was called Monday night to the East End to minister to Mrs. Ada Jones, formerly Denner, formerly Bay, who seems to have swallowed poison on Friday last and has since been quite ill. Until last night no physician was called, following the poisoning. The woman is reported as being now out of danger. She is reported to have taken poison twice during the last two months. After her marriage recently, Mrs. Jones became dissatisfied and sought death. It is claimed by neighbors that she has attempted to poison herself a number of times during the past few years.

A Good Rule.
The story is told of a man who had great difficulty in spelling words with "el" and "le" in them. One day a friend offered to give him an infallible rule for such cases. "It is a rule," he said, "that in forty-seven years has never failed me."
His friend expressed delight and waited.
The man resumed: "The rule is simply this: Write your 'l' and 'e' exactly alike, and put the dot just between them."—Ladies' Home Journal.
Knew What He Wanted.
"By George! But that chap Kirby is independent. I never before met a man who cared so little for another person's opinion of himself as he."
"What's his latest declaration?"
"Why, he walked brazenly into a fashionable Broadway haberdasher's and asked to be shown some shirts with detached cuffs."—Satire.

Immaterial.
The Boarding House Wit was executing a note to his landlady for three months' arrears.
"Shall I write this 'sixty days after date,' or 'sixty days after death?'" he inquired, merrily jocose.
"Since it is your note," retorted the sour old landlady, "I don't know that it would make much difference."

Liability Board Apportions Rates Among Employers.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—The state liability board of awards, which will handle the state insurance fund operative under the new workmen's compensation act, has announced the amount of premiums which will be charged employers per $100 of wages. The highest rate will be charged employers of men blasting in stone quarries, where, the board considers, the risk is very great. The minimum charge for this class of insurance is $17.50 and the maximum $72.80.

The lowest charge for protection is made to textile manufacturers, where employers having had but an average of 10 accidents per year for three years or more will be taxed but 35 cents per $100 of wages; the highest rate on this class is $15.

The board will contract for insurance with no plant for a longer period than six months; if at the expiration of a contract the accidents in a plant have been noticeably fewer or more than was estimated by the firm, the rates will be proportionately raised or lowered in the next contract.

The new law will become effective March 1, after which employers who do not join will be deprived of their three common-law defenses in damage suits instigated by injured or the relatives of employees killed at work.

Hartman Theater

Margaret Anglin, the distinguished actress, will make her first appearance in comedy for some years before the Columbus public at the Hartman Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 1st and 2nd, with a Saturday matinee. Her vehicle is "Green Stockings", a fabric of fun, written by A. E. W. Mason, the English novelist. The piece is so constructed that it gives Miss Anglin opportunity to demonstrate what she has shown before she adhered to emotional roles—that she is a comedienne of the very highest skill. The story concerns a spinster, who, to protect herself against the jeers of her neighbors, because of her unwed state, announces her engagement to a fictitious personage. Later she announces that he has died and she goes in mourning. At this point a man appears upon the scene with the same name as the one used by the spinster. He sees the fun in the situation and presses his rights as a fiance. From this point on the comedy sparkles with fun at every turn. Miss Anglin is supported by a notable cast.

THE PAGEANT TO BE SPECTACULAR

Historic Feature of "World in Cincinnati" to be Impressive and Instructive.

OUTLINE OF THE FIVE EPISODES

Many of the Thrilling and Dramatic Incidents of the History of Missions Will Be Re-enacted by Players at Exposition.

The Pageant of Darkness and Light is to be the most spectacular feature of the great Missionary Exposition, "The World in Cincinnati," at Music Hall, March 9 to April 6. The purpose of the pageant is to set forth the great historical events of missionary effort in an instructive and inspiring way.

It will be probably the greatest spectacular presentation Cincinnati has ever seen. In four of the five episodes, from 150 to 200 people will be on the platform. More than 3,000 persons, volunteers, are being trained for the Pageant. There will be 1,500 in the grand choir alone and another 1,500 for the platform are to serve in relays on different days. More than 1,000 children will take part also. The costumes and splendid scenery used at the first presentation of the Pageant in London, England, have been brought to Cincinnati for its production.

The five scenes which constitute the Pageant may be briefly summarized as follows:

Episode I.—The North.

The scene represents an Indian camp in the far Northwest. The chief and his wife are in distress at the loss of their little daughter, who strayed from the line of march three days ago. To the camp comes a band of Eskimos for trading purposes. The medicine-man incites the braves to kill them. Just as they are about to do so a missionary enters. He brings the chief's little daughter, whom he found straying in the woods. Thus he gains the chief's good will and a hearing for his message.

Episode II.—The South.

The scene is in the outskirts of Ujjj, where Livingstone is resting for a while after long journeyings. His men are building a mission house. During mid-day rest Livingstone is full of thoughts of home. A runner comes panting in with news of the coming of a white man. Then Stanley enters. He begs Livingstone to return with him. Livingstone's men hang upon his words. He is sorely tempted, but—no, he can not go until his work is done.

Episode III.—The East.

Scene I is in a city in India. A crowd surrounds the missionaries' house, clamoring for the return to her relatives of a child-wife, whom they have been educating. The child flees down the street, the relatives follow, capture her, and return in triumph. In Scene II, a native procession is going to a temple. There enters a funeral procession, leading a young woman to the funeral pyre of her husband. Just as the pyre is to be lighted the Government official strides in with a proclamation doing away with the "suttee," as the rite of widow burning was called.

Episode IV.—The West.

The scene is a coral beach in Hawaii. Behind is the volcano Kilauea. A wedding group is sporting in the sunshine. The volcano roars. One recalls the fact that when Pele, the Goddess of the lake of fire, is angered, she sends her priest to claim victims to appease her wrath. The priest is seen on the mountain-side. He claims the bridegroom, and a child playing unconsciously among the flowers. As he is about to lead them to their doom, Queen Papihewa appears and defies Pele. The priest curses her. She bids him lead her to the crater, and there—after the fashion of Elijah on Carmel—she taunts and defies the goddess, and breaks the power of Pele forever.

Episode V.—The Final Procession.

Singing a grand procession, the great choir, and all who have taken part in the previous episodes, march in four different processions down the aisles of the Pageant Hall, forming in a tableaux on the platform around a cross, and all bearing golden palm branches. The closing chorus is sung and at a signal from the drums of the orchestra of 30 pieces, the entire audience rise and sing the long metre doxology.

The Pageant in Cincinnati.

This Pageant is to be reproduced for the second time in America, in the auditorium of the Music Hall, every afternoon and evening, from March 9th to April 6th. This building is admirably adapted to it, more so than either of those in which it has been given before.

Mid-year Meeting Dates Announced

The members of the various W. C. T. U. organizations of this county are looking forward with great anticipation to the coming mid-year meeting, to be held the first week in March, which will bring to our city many earnest Christian women, all working for the uplift of mankind along the line of temperance.

Among those to be present are the state president of the W. C. T. U., county presidents numbering one for each of the 88 counties of Ohio and probably more, since several counties have more than one organized union; also many superintendents of department work and private citizens.

At a recent meeting of the local W. C. T. U., Mrs. Davies read a biographical sketch of Miss Francis Willard, who devoted thirty years in strenuous battle for the cause of temperance.

To the county union, Mrs. Laura York, of Good Hope, presented a beautiful banner, decorated with gold and embroidered with white carnations, the work of Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman.

ALMOST LOST HIS LIFE

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. THE PRODIGAL JUDGE

By VAUGHAN KESTER
Illustrations By D. MELVILLE

The Judge paused abruptly. He endured a moment of agonizing irresolution.

"On the advice of my physician I dare not touch wine—gout, ma'am, and liver—but this restriction does not apply to corn whisky—in moderation, and as a tonic—either before meals, immediately after meals or at any time between meals—always keeping in mind the idea of its tonic properties." The Judge seemed to mellow and ripen. This was much better than having the dogs sicked on you! His manner toward Betty became almost fatherly. Poor young thing, so lonely and desolate in the midst of all this splendor—he surreptitiously wiped away a tear, and when little Steve presented himself and was told to bring whisky, audibly smacked his lips—a whole lot better, surely!

"I am sorry you think you must hurry away, Judge Price," said Betty. She still retained the small brown hand Hannibal had thrust into hers.

"The eastern mail gets in today, ma'am, and I have reason to think my share of it will be especially heavy, for it brings the bulk of my professional correspondence." In ten years the Judge had received just one communication by mail—a bill which had followed him through four states and seven counties. I expect my secretary—boldly fixing Solomon Mahaffy's status, "is already dipping into it; an excellent assistant, ma'am, but literary rather than legal."

Little Steve reappeared bearing a silver tray on which was a decanter and glass.

"Since you insist, ma'am," the judge poured himself a drink, "my best respects—" he bowed profoundly.

"If you are quite willing, judge, I think I will keep Hannibal. Miss Bowen, who has been here—since—her voice broke suddenly.

"I understand, ma'am," said the Judge soothingly. He gave her a glance of great concern and turned to Hannibal. "Dear lad, you'll be very quiet and obedient, and do exactly as Miss Malroy says? When shall I come for him, ma'am?"

"I'll send him to you when he is ready to go home. I am thinking of visiting my friends in North Carolina, and I should like to have him spend as much time as possible with me before I start for the east."

It had occurred to Betty that she had done little or nothing for the child; probably this would be her last opportunity.

The state of the Judge's feelings was such that with elaborate absence of mind he poured himself a second drink of whisky, and that there should be no doubt the act was one of inadvertence, said again, "My best respects, ma'am," and bowed as before. Putting down the glass, he

CHAPTER XVIII.

Betty Leaves Belle Plain.

Hannibal had devoted himself loyally to the Judge's glorification, and Betty heard all about the letter, the snuffing of the candles and the reward of five thousand dollars. It vastly increased the child's sense of importance and satisfaction when he discovered she had known nothing of these matters until he told her of them.

"Why, where would Judge Price get so much money, Hannibal?" she asked, greatly astonished.

"He won't have to get it, Miss Betty; Mr. Mahaffy says he don't reckon no one will ever tell who wrote the letter—he 'lows the man who done that will keep pretty mum—he just dasset tell!" the boy explained.

"No, I suppose not—" and Betty saw that perhaps, after all, the Judge had not assumed any very great financial responsibility.

"He can't be a coward, though, Hannibal!" she added, for she understood that the risk of personal violence which he ran was genuine. She had formed her own unsympathetic estimate of him that day at Boggs race-track; Mahaffy in his blackest hour could have added nothing to it. Twice since then she had met him in Raleigh, which had only served to fix that first impression.

"Miss Betty, he's just like my Uncle Bob was—he ain't afraid of nothing! He totes them pistols of his—loaded—if you notice good you can see where they bulge out his coat!" Hannibal's eyes, very round and big, looked up into hers.

"Is he as poor as he seems, Hannibal?" inquired Betty.

"He never has no money, Miss Betty, but I don't reckon he's what a body would call poor."

It might have baffled a far more mature intelligence than Hannibal's to comprehend those peculiar processes by which the Judge sustained himself and his intimate fellowship with adversity—that it was his magnificence of mind which made the squalor of his daily life seem merely a passing phase—but the boy had managed to point a delicate distinction, and Betty grasped something of the hope and faith which never quite died out in Slocum Price's indomitable breast.

"But you always have enough to eat, dear?" she questioned anxiously. Hannibal promptly reassured her on this point. "You wouldn't let me think anything that was not true, Hannibal—you are quite sure you have never been hungry?"

"Never, Miss Betty, honest!"

Betty gave a sigh of relief. She had been reproaching herself for her neglect of the child; she had meant to do so much for him and had done nothing! Now it was too late for her personally to interest herself in his behalf, yet before she left for the east she would provide for him. If she had felt it was possible to trust the Judge she would have made him her agent, but even in his best aspect he seemed a dubious dependence. Tom, for quite different reasons, was equal to the task. She thought of Mr. Mahaffy.

"What kind of a man is Mr. Mahaffy, Hannibal?"

"He's an awful nice man, Miss Betty, only he never lets on; a body's got to find it out for his own self—he ain't like the Judge."

"Does he—drink, too, Hannibal?" questioned Betty.

"Oh, yes; when he can get the lick he does." It was evident that Hannibal was cheerfully tolerant of this weakness on the part of the austere Mahaffy. By this time Betty was ready to weep over the child, with his knowledge of shabby vice, and his fresh young faith in those old tattered demagogues.

"But, no matter what they do, they are very, very kind to you?" she continued tremulously.

"Yes, ma'am—why, Miss Betty, they're lovely men!"

"And do you ever hear the things spoken of you learned about at Mrs. Ferris' Sunday-school?"

"When the Judge is drunk he talks a heap about 'em. It's beautiful to hear him then; you'd love it, Miss Betty," and Hannibal smiled up sweetly into her face.

"Does he have you go to Sunday-school in Raleigh?"

The boy shook his head.

"I ain't got no clothes that's fitten to wear, nor no pennies to give, but the Judge, he 'lows that as soon as he can make a raise I got to go, and he's learning me my letters—but we ain't a book. Miss Betty, I reckon it'd stump you some to guess how he's fixed it for me to learn?"

"He's drawn the letters for you, is that the way?" In spite of herself, Betty was experiencing a certain revulsion of feeling where the Judge and Mahaffy were concerned. They were doubtless bad enough, but they could have been worse.

"No, ma'am; he done soaked the label off one of Mr. Pegloe's whisky bottles and pasted it on the wall just as high as my chin, so's I can see it good, and he's learning me that a-way! Maybe you've seen the kind of bottle I mean—Pegloe's Mississippi Pilot; Pure Corn Whisky?" But Hannibal's bright little face fell. He was quick to see that the educational system devised by the Judge did not impress Betty at all favorably. She drew him into her arms.

"You shall have my books—the books I learned to read out of when I was a little girl, Hannibal!"

"I like learning from the label pretty well," said Hannibal loyally.

"But you'll like the books better, dear, when you see them. I know just where they are, for I happened on them on a shelf in the library only the other day."

LUCK IS A BIG FACTOR

Plays Large Part in Success of Major League Manager.

New Leaders, Just Taking Hold, Have Rosy Outlook for Pennant—Boston Red Sox Look Like Sure One-Two-Three Bet.

Luck is the main essential in the baseball manager's repertoire and there isn't a doubt in the world about it. Everyone knows that there isn't a better leader in the land than John McGraw, yet where would the Giants have finished if Mathewson had not been with the team since the day that McGraw affixed his signature to a Giant contract?

The coming season will see seven new managers in the two big leagues—Hank O'Day, Jake Stahl, Harry Wolverton, Jimmy Callahan, Johnny Kling, Clark Griffith and Harry Davis. And a quartet is jamming its way into managerial berths—just when everything looks rosy—for near pennant-winners, at least—for them. If they finish right up near the top the fans next October will be shouting their praises—they will be the greatest ever.

O'Day is going to take up the managerial reins in Cincinnati when it looks as though a pennant winner had been developed for him. Griffith left just at the time he should get the plum.

The great finish the Boston Americans made last season surely makes them a good one-two-three bet. Stahl will handle them and has no men to develop. Today no team looks more like a pennant winner, barring the Athletics, than the Red Sox.

George Stovall took a bushy-looking lot of players after Jim McGuire quit last spring in Cleveland and gave

LOW TEMPERATURES; POSSIBLE DAMAGE TO PEACH BUDS.

Mr. J. Warren Smith, professor of Meteorology, U. S. Weather Bureau, Columbus, says dormant buds of some varieties of peaches are killed when the temperature of the air falls to about 12 degrees below zero, while other varieties will stand a temperature of 15 degrees to 18 degrees below zero.

During January, 1912, the temperature was 37 degrees below zero at Milligan, Perry county, and was over 30 degrees below zero in low valleys in parts of Portage, Columbiana, Guernsey, Hocking, Athens and Ross counties.

The temperature was more than 15 degrees below zero in nearly all sections of the state except along Lake Erie, in parts of the Ohio river valley, and on some of the highest points in the state. The lowest temperature occurred generally on the morning of the 13th.

The valleys are always colder than the hills; also, on such nights the air that has been cooled on the hillsides slides down into the valleys and is replaced by horizontally moving currents of warmer air.

High level points showed temperatures from 10 to 15 degrees below zero, hence it is probable that peach orchards located at or near the highest points of land escaped complete loss, while all those at lower levels were killed.

Experiments in orchard heating, with oil pots of one gallon capacity set about 89 to the acre, coal heaters about 69 to the acre, or wood fires about 45 to the acre, show that the temperature can be kept from 10 to 15 degrees higher in the orchard than prevails outside.

This being the case, systematic orchard heating might have saved the bulk of the peach crop during this cold spell at an expense of $2 or $3 per acre.

PIANOS

It is the brains and the life time experience together with the careful selection of the material that enters into the building of a piano, that gives to it the actual value expected and desired by every piano purchaser, and not the fabulous or ridiculous price asked by inexperienced dealers. One visit to my store will convince you of this fact.

ARMY OF VOLUNTEERS

Great Exposition Has Enlisted
Fourteen Thousand Workers

Two Hundred Churches Are Co-Operating to Make Success of "World in Cincinnati."

A total of about 14,000 volunteer workers have been enrolled for "The World in Cincinnati" Missionary Exposition, which will be open in Music Hall March 9 to April 6. The names of this army of people have been received from more than 200 churches of Cincinnati and vicinity.

The workers are divided into several classes. There are more than 5,000 stewards, men and women, both young and old, who will serve in relays and populate the various scenes and sections of the Exposition, explaining to visitors everything that may be seen. Most of these stewards will wear the costume of the country to which they have been assigned. There are nearly 5,000 Pageant workers also. About half of the Pageant workers are members of the grand choir. They will sing the splendid choruses of the Pageant of Darkness and Light, wearing a suitable costume and occupying seats in the Pageant hall outside of the proscenium arch. The other half of the Pageant workers take the parts of the people of various foreign lands upon the platform, impersonating American Indians, Eskimos, natives of Africa, people of India and Hawaiians.

There will be at least 1,000 ushers, all men, who will act as guides, doorkeepers and in other ways keep the crowds moving. In all about 2,500 children will be required. Several hundred of these will be trained to play the games which the children of foreign lands play, and this they will do in the different foreign scenes of the Exposition, thus illustrating the child life of non-Christian lands. All will wear appropriate costumes.

Besides these three groups of children, all of whom are to have work to do in the Exposition proper, between 1,500 and 2,000 are being enrolled to take part in the great final episode of the Pageant of Darkness and Light. They will march in a procession down one of the aisles of the Pageant Hall to the platform, where, with all of the other Pageant participants, they will form a part of the great closing tableau.

Edward Fite Purchases Cockerill Grocery Store

The partnership heretofore existing in the big grocery and queensware store of S. S. Cockerill & Son, has been dissolved and all the interests have been purchased by Mr. Edward Fite, of Cleveland, a son-in-law of the late S. S. Cockerill. Mr. Fite arrived in the city Saturday and the big deal was closed upon the completion of an invoice instituted immediately upon his arrival.

Under the terms of the deal Mr. Fite took charge of the business at once. He announces that there will be no change in the name of the firm or the policy so long successfully employed. Mr. Fite is a man of 15 years' experience in the grocery business at Georgetown and Cleveland, and comes well prepared to manage the Cockerill store. With his brother, Lucien, Mr. Fite was the owner of three grocery stores at Cleveland, selling out his interests to his brother only a few days ago to engage in business here.

Mr. Earl Cockerill, who has been in active management of the Cockerill store for several years, will hereafter be located in Dayton, expecting to take up his residence there within a month. In the meantime in company with his wife he will take a trip and needed rest.

Some time ago Mr. Cockerill became financially interested in the B. & B. Baking Co., at Dayton, of which he is treasurer. This is a large and solid institution, doing a vast business in baking square cakes, the output being sold at wholesale by a retinue of traveling men throughout ten adjoining states. Mr. Cockerill will hereafter give his time and attention to the big baking business and his connection with the home office of the concern will necessitate his residence in Dayton.

Woman Attempts To Commit Suicide

Dr. D. H. Rowe was called Monday night to the East End to minister to Mrs. Ada Jones, formerly Denner, formerly Bay, who seems to have swallowed poison on Friday last and has since been quite ill.

Until last night no physician was called, following the poisoning.

The woman is reported as being now out of danger. She is reported to have taken poison twice during the last two months. After her marriage recently, Mrs. Jones became dissatisfied and sought death. It is claimed by neighbors that she has attempted to poison herself a number of times during the past few years.

Anti-Suffragist Issues Warning.
Springfield, O., Feb. 20.—In an address before an anti-suffrage society Mrs. Herman Hubbard of Columbus warned delegates to the constitutional convention that elimination from political life will be the fate of men who help foist equal suffrage on the women of Ohio. She asserted that 85 per cent of the women of the state are opposed to the granting of the ballot to women, and that the agitation for suffrage is the work of a small minority of dissatisfied women.

A Good Rule.
The story is told of a man who had great difficulty in spelling words with "el" and "le" in them. One day a friend offered to give him an infallible rule for such cases. "It is a rule," he said, "that in forty-seven years has never failed me."
His friend expressed delight and waited.
The man resumed: "The rule is simply this. Write your 'l' and 'e' exactly alike, and put the dot just between them."—Ladies Home Journal.

Immaterial.
The Boarding House Wit was executing a note to his landlady for three months' arrears.
"Shall I write this 'sixty days after date,' or 'sixty days after death'?" he inquired, merrily jocose.
"Since it is your note," retorted the sour old landlady, "I don't know that it would make much difference."

THE PRODIGAL JUDGE

By VAUGHAN KESTER

The judge paused abruptly. He endured a moment of agonizing irresolution.

"On the advice of my physician I dare not touch wine—gout, ma'am, and liver—but this restriction does not apply to corn whisky—in moderation, and as a tonic—either before meals, immediately after meals or at any time between meals—always keeping in mind the idea of its tonic properties." The judge seemed to mellow and ripen. This was much better than having the dogs kicked on you! His manner toward Betty became almost fatherly. Poor young thing, so lonely and desolate in the midst of all this splendor—he surreptitiously wiped away a tear, and when little Steve presented himself and was told to bring whisky, audibly smacked his lips—a whole lot better, surely!

"I am sorry you think you must hurry away, Judge Price," said Betty. She still retained the small brown hand Hannibal had thrust into hers. "The eastern mail gets in today, ma'am, and I have reason to think my share of it will be especially heavy, for it brings the bulk of my professional correspondence." In ten years the judge had received just one communication by mail—a bill which had followed him through four states and seven counties. "I expect my secretary," boldly fixing Solomon Mahaffy's status, "is already dipping into it; an excellent assistant, ma'am, but literary rather than legal."

Little Steve reappeared bearing a silver tray on which was a decanter and glass.

"Since you insist, ma'am," the judge poured himself a drink, "my best respects—" he bowed profoundly.

"If you are quite willing, judge, I think I will keep Hannibal. Miss Bowen, who has been here—since—" her voice broke suddenly.

"I understand, ma'am," said the judge soothingly. He gave her a glance of great concern and turned to Hannibal. "Dear lad, you'll be very quiet and obedient, and do exactly as Miss Malroy says." When shall I come for him, ma'am?

"I'll send him to you when he is ready to go home. I am thinking of visiting my friends in North Carolina, and I should like to have him spend as much time as possible with me before I start for the east."

It had occurred to Betty that she had done little or nothing for the child; probably this would be her last opportunity.

The state of the judge's feelings was such that with elaborate absence of mind he poured himself a second drink of whisky; and that there should be no doubt the act was one of inadvertence, said again, "My best respects, ma'am," and bowed as before. Putting down the glass, he backed toward the door. "I trust you will not hesitate to call upon me if I can be of any use to you, ma'am—a message will bring me here without a moment's delay." He was rather disappointed that no allusion had been made to his recent activities. He reasoned correctly that Betty was as yet in ignorance of the somewhat dangerous eminence he had achieved as the champion of law and order. However, he reflected with satisfaction that Hannibal, in remaining, would admirably serve his ends.

Betty insisted that he should be driven home, and after faintly protesting, the judge gracefully yielded the point, and a few moments later rolled away from Belle Plain behind a pair of sleek-coated bays, with a negro in livery on the box. He was conscious of a great sense of exaltation. He felt that he should paralyze Mahaffy. He even temporarily forgot the blow his hopes had sustained when Betty spoke of returning to North Carolina. This was life—broad acres and niggers—principally to trot after you totting liquor—and such liquor!—he lolled back luxuriantly with half-closed eyes.

"Twenty years in the wood if an hour!" he muttered. "I'd like to have just such a taste in my mouth when I come to die and probably she has barrels of it!" he sighed deeply, and searched his soul for words with which adequately to describe that whisky to Mahaffy.

But why not do more than paralyze Solomon—that would be pleasant but not especially profitable. The judge came back quickly to the vexed problem of his future. He desired to make some striking display of Miss Malroy's courtesy. He knew that his credit was experiencing the pangs of an early mortality; he was not sensitive, yet for some days he had been sensible of the fact that what he called the commercial class was viewing him with open distaste; but he must hang on in Raleigh a little longer—for him it had become the abode of hope. The judge considered the matter. At least he could let people see something of that decent respect with which Miss Malroy treated him.

They were entering Raleigh now, and he ordered the coachman to pull his horses down to a walk. He had decided to make use of the Belle Plain turnout in creating an atmosphere of confidence and trust—especially trust. To this end he spent the best part of an hour interviewing his creditors. It amounted almost to a mass-meeting of the adult male population, for he had no favorites. When he invaded virgin territory he believed in starting the largest possible number of accounts without delay. The advantage of his system, as he explained its workings to Mahaffy, was that it bred a noble spirit of emulation.

He let it be known in a general way that things were looking up with him; just in what quarter he did not specify, but there he was, seated in the Belle Plain carriage, and the inference was unavoidable that Miss Malroy was to recognize his activities in a substantial manner.

Mahaffy, looting away the afternoon in the county clerk's office, heard of the judge's return. He heard that Charley Norton had left a will; that Thicket Point went to Miss Malroy; that the Norton cousins in middle Tennessee were going to put up a fight; that Judge Price had been retained as counsel by Miss Malroy; that he was authorized to begin an independent search for Charley Norton's murderer, and was to spare no expense; that Judge Price was going to pay his debts. Mahaffy grinned at this and hurried home. He could believe all but the last; that was the crowning touch of unreality.

The judge explained the situation. "I wouldn't withhold hope from any man, Solomon; it's the cheapest thing in the world and the one thing we are most miserably about extending to our fellows. These people all feel better—and what did it cost me?—just a little decent consideration; just the knowledge of what the unavoidable associations of ideas in their own minds would do for them!"

What had seemed the corpse of credit breathed again, and the judge and Mahaffy immediately embarked upon a characteristic celebration. Early candle-light found them making a beginning; midnight came—the gray and purple of dawn—and they were still at it, back of closed doors and shuttered windows.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Betty Leaves Belle Plain.

Hannibal had devoted himself loyally to the judge's glorification, and Betty heard all about the letter, the snuffing of the candles and the reward of five thousand dollars. It vastly increased the child's sense of importance and satisfaction when he discovered she had known nothing of these matters until he told her of them.

"Why, where would Judge Price get so much money, Hannibal?" she asked, greatly astonished.

"He won't have to get it, Miss Betty; Mr. Mahaffy says he don't reckon no one will ever tell who wrote the letter—he 'lows the man who done that will keep pretty mum—he just darsent tell!" the boy explained.

"No, I suppose not—" and Betty saw that perhaps, after all, the judge had not assumed any very great financial responsibility.

"He can't be a coward, though, Hannibal!" she added, for she understood that the risk of personal violence which he ran was genuine. She had formed her own unsympathetic estimate of him that day at Boggs' race-track; Mahaffy in his blackest hour could have added nothing to it. Twice since then she had met him in Raleigh, which had only served to fix that first impression.

"Miss Betty, he's just like my Uncle Bob was—he ain't afraid of nothing! He totes them pistols of his—loaded—if you notice good you can see where they bulge out his coat!" Hannibal's eyes, very round and big, looked up into hers.

"Is he as poor as he seems, Hannibal?" inquired Betty.

"He never has no money, Miss Betty, but I don't reckon he's what a body would call pore."

It might have baffled a far more mature intelligence than Hannibal's to comprehend those peculiar processes by which the judge sustained himself and his intimate fellowship with adversity—that it was his magnificence of mind which made the squalor of his daily life seem merely a passing phase—but the boy had managed to point a delicate distinction, and Betty grasped something of the hope and faith which never quite died out in Slocum Price's indomitable breast.

"But you always have enough to eat, dear?" she questioned anxiously. Hannibal promptly reassured her on this point. "You wouldn't let me think anything that was not true, Hannibal—you are quite sure you have never been hungry?"

"Never, Miss Betty, honest!"

Betty gave a sigh of relief. She had been reproaching herself for her neglect of the child; she had meant to do so much for him and had done nothing! Now it was too late for her personally to interest herself in his behalf, yet before she left for the east she would provide for him. If she had felt it was possible to trust the judge she would have made him her agent, but even in his best aspect he seemed a dubious dependence. Tom, for quite different reasons, was equally out of the question. She thought of Mr. Mahaffy.

"What kind of a man is Mr. Mahaffy, Hannibal?"

"He's an awful nice man, Miss Betty, only he never lets on; a body's got to find it out for his own self—he ain't like the judge."

"Does he—drink, too, Hannibal?" questioned Betty.

"Oh, yes; when he can get the ficker, he does." It was evident that Hannibal was cheerfully tolerant of this weakness on the part of the master Mahaffy. By this time Betty was ready to weep over the child, with his knowledge of shabby vice, and his fresh young faith in those old tattered demagogues.

"But no matter what they do, they are very, very kind to you?" she continued tremulously.

"Yes, ma'am—why, Miss Betty, they're lovely men!"

"And do you ever hear the things spoken of you learned about at Mrs. Ferris' Sunday-school?"

"When the judge is drunk he talks a heap about 'em. It's beautiful to hear him then—you'd love it, Miss Betty," and Hannibal smiled up sweetly into her face.

"Does he have you go to Sunday-school in Raleigh?"

The boy shook his head.

"I ain't got no clothes that's fitten to wear, nor no pennies to give, but the judge, he 'lows that as soon as he can make a raise I got to go, and he's learning me my letters—but we ain't a book, Miss Betty, I reckon it'd stump you some to guess how he's fixed it for me to learn?"

"He's drawn the letters for you, is that the way?" In spite of herself, Betty was experiencing a certain revulsion of feeling where the judge and Mahaffy were concerned. They were doubtless bad enough, but they could have been worse.

"No, ma'am; he done soaked the label off one of Mr. Pegloe's whisky bottles and pasted it on the wall just as high as my chin, so I can see it good, and he's learning me that a-way! Maybe you've seen the kind of bottle I mean—Pegloe's Mississippi Pilot; Pure Corn Whisky?" But Hannibal's bright little face fell. He was quick to see that the educational system devised by the judge did not impress Betty at all favorably. She drew him into her arms.

"You shall have my books—the books I learned to read out of when I was a little girl, Hannibal!"

"I like learning from the label pretty well," said Hannibal loyally.

LUCK IS A BIG FACTOR

Plays Large Part in Success of Major League Manager.

New Leaders, Just Taking Hold, Have Rosy Outlook for Pennant—Boston Red Sox Look Like Sure One-Three Bet.

Luck is the main essential in the baseball manager's repertoire and there isn't a doubt in the world about it. Everyone knows that there isn't a better leader in the land than John McGraw, yet where would the Giants have finished if Mathewson had not been with the team since the day that McGraw affixed his signature to a Giant contract?

The coming season will see seven new managers in the two big leagues—Hank O'Day, Jake Stahl, Harry Wolverton, Jimmy Callahan, Johnny Kling, Clark Griffith and Harry Davis. And a quartet is jamming its way into managerial berths—just when everything looks rosy—for near pennant-winners, at least—for them. If they finish right up near the top the fans next October will be shouting their praises—they will be the greatest ever.

O'Day is going to take up the managerial reins in Cincinnati when it looks as though a pennant winner had been developed for him. Griffith left just at the time he should get the plum.

The great finish the Boston Americans made last season surely makes them a good one-two-three bet. Stahl will handle them and has no men to develop. Today no team looks more like a pennant winner, barring the Athletics, than the Red Sox.

George Stovall took a bushy-looking lot of players after Jim McGuire quit last spring in Cleveland and gave
